STAGE SET FOR FALL ELECTION

State, District, and County Contests to be Decided on Tuesday.

THE WET AND DRY ISSUES

Vote on Fifty Million Dollar Bond Issue also before the County. The Candidates.

With a number of contests in which there is more than ordinary interest, the fall election to-morrow promises to be of exceptional importance here, as well as elsewhere in the state and throughout the country.

President Wilson's call for a Democratic Congress and the lively campaign arguments which have followed it, lend special zest to the local Congressional fight here in which Hon. A. R. Brodbeck, the present representative, is opposed by Edward S. Brooks. Brodbeck, in addition to being the Democratic nominee, also has the Prohibition endorsement, while Brooks is running as the candidate of both the Republican and Washington parties. C. William Thompson is the Socialist candidate.

For state legislature both of the major parties have candidates pledged to the ratification of the National Prohibition Amendment. C. Arthur Gries, the Republican candidate, also appears on the Prohibition ticket. Jacob I. Hereter is the Democratic aspirant. A three-cornered aspect has entered this contest through the active candidacy of Charles W. Bucher, who appears on the "Liberty League" platform. The Socialist candidate is Charles M. Krumrine.

The congressional and legislative fights are the only ones in which local candidates appear on the ballots, but Adams County is also taking a hand in the contest for the governorship. William C. Sproul, the Republican-Washington candidate, has as his opponent Eugene C. Bonniwell the Democratic-Fair Play, aspirant. The other parties also have their candidates for the position of chief executive of the state. Dr. F. J. Fihtian is Prohibition nominee for governor whom that party is advocating to get a large temperance vote. Both Republicans and Democrats claim victory.

For lieutenant governor Edward E. Beidleman is the running mate of Sproul; and J. Washington Logue is on with Bonniwell. James F. Woodward is the Republican-Washington candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, and Asher R. Johnson is the Democratic aspirant.

One judge of the Supreme Court is to be chosen, and one judge of the Superior Court. These contests are non-partisan. The State will also elect four congressmen-at-large and a list of twenty candidates appears on the ballot, four from each of the five political parties showing complete tickets, with endorsements from other parties for several of the men.

Two amendments to the State Constitution are to be voted upon. The first of these is on the $50,000,000 bond issue for the highway system of the state and has been the subject of a lively fight for some weeks past. The measure was up before the voters several years ago and was defeated by a substantial majority. In the meantime the advocates of the measure claim to have strengthened their cause and hope for its passage, which would put the matter up to the law-making bodies of the Commonwealth. Opponents of the measure predict its defeat.

The second amendment has to do with a proposed increase in the debt of the city of Philadelphia and has comparatively little interest for Adams County voters.

The polls will be opened at seven o'clock in the morning in all election districts of the county and will close at seven o'clock in the evening.

GETS WAR CROSS FOR HIS BRAVERY

Young Soldier Known in Gettysburg Wins Coveted French Decoration.

Clinton E. Walter Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Clinton E. Walter, of York, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre, the French war cross, for bravery in action. The family is well known in Gettysburg. No details have as yet been received as to the distinguished service which young Walter rendered as a member of the 117th Trench Mortar battalion of the Forty second or Rainbow division, known as the "Fighting 117th", which is now engaged in the hardest fighting in which the Americans have participated near Verdun.

The Rainbow Division belongs to the First Army Corps of the First American army under General Hunter Ligget, and has been participating with much glory and honor in all the hardest French engagements.

When volunteers from the Third and Fourth companies were called to form the First Trench Mortar battery ever formed in this country, young Walter volunteered and was later chosen as one of the 185 men who compose the organization which is now known as the "Fighting 117th".

WILL RECEIVE BALLOTS

New Oxford Dentist To Take Soldier Vote.

Dr. William R. Snyder, New Oxford, dentist, has been appointed by Governor Brumbaugh as a commissioner to take the vote of soldiers at one of the cantonments. He left Saturday for Harrisburg and expects to return the latter part of this week.

Dr. Snyder holds a commission as first lieutenant in the army, having been in service as a dentist at a Kentucky camp. Because of sickness at home he was relieved of duty several months ago and returned home.

BIG NEW STRUCTURE

Carlisle Army Hospital Addition Contract is Let. Will Cost $180,000.

Contract has been let to Warren Moore, of Philadelphia, for a three-story large addition to the old Carlisle Indian School to be used by the government for army hospital purposes. The estimated cost is $180,000. Colonel Gunby, of the construction department, will be the officer in charge. The architect is S. B. Wheaton, of Washington. The construction will be of a permanent character and every facility for the treatment of suffering soldiers will be included in the structure.

MUST PUT IN MORE TIME

Necessary for Local Red Cross Workers to Double Efforts.

On account of the large allotment of work assigned to the local Red Cross Chapter the work room on East High street will henceforth be open on Monday evening, Tuesday afternoon, all day Wednesday, Thursday afternoon and all day Friday. Gettysburg women are urged to give all the time which they can spare to this work.

GETS COMMISSION

Wins Lieutenant's Bars at Plattsburg Barracks.

Charles B. Eckenrode, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckenrode, of York, has been commissioned second lieutenant at Plattsburg, New York, where he was in the officers' training camp. Mr. Eckenrode was a senior at State College where he was studying chemistry.

He is a nephew of Mrs. I. S. Stonesifer, of West Middle street.

MORE TRUCKS GO THROUGH

A long line of heavy motor trucks and light touring cars all bound for An Atlantic Port, and shipment overseas, passed through Gettysburg this morning. The trucks were some of the largest which have been seen here.

BOTH ARE STRUCK BY HUN MISSILES

Cousins Go into Same Battle but in Different Regiments. Are Wounded.

ARE WELL KNOWN HERE

Formerly Attended College. One in Charge of Battalion during Important Engagement.

First Lieutenant C. Morris Sincell and Sergeant C. Milton Sincell, both former students at Gettysburg College and widely known in the town, have been wounded in action, according to word received at their homes in Oakland, Maryland. They took part in one of the recent big actions in which the 79th Division was engaged and performed with special credit.

Lieutenant Sincell, who was generally known to his town and college friends as "Rufus", is with the 316th Infantry. During the charge the major of his battalion and his captain were both killed, others were taken out until he was left as the ranking officer in the battalion. While going forward he was struck in the arm by a machine gun bullet, but went ahead disregarding his wound except to bandage it temporarily.

After the battle he reported for treatment at the hospital but the wound had already become infected and it caused him a great deal of suffering. He is now recovering.

Sergeant Sincell is a member of the 313th Infantry and was wounded in the leg in the same battle. He, too, was struck by a machine gun bullet. His wound is not considered serious.

Lieutenant Sincell earned his commission at the first Niagara Camp and was later promoted to first lieutenant. He was assigned to Camp Meade where he assisted in training the men of the 316th. Regiment and went across with them in July. Sergeant Sincell was sent to Meade with a contingent of selected men from Garrett County, Maryland. The two soldiers are cousins.

Captain Frederick A. Muhlenberg, of Reading, a graduate of Gettysburg College in 1908, has been burned by mustard gas and wounded in the head and shoulder by shrapnel.

Captain Muhlenberg, who went overseas with the 314th Infantry last July, is an architect and graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is a lineal descendant of Rev. Dr. Henry Melchoir Muhlenberg, the native German who founded the Lutheran church in America. In fighting for his country Captain Muhlenberg has sustained the traditions of his family. His great great grandfather was General Peter Muhlenberg, the "fighting parson," of the Revolution, who at the close of a sermon astonished his congregation by declaring "there is a time to preach and a time to fight," and, throwing back his clerical robe, stood forth in the uniform of a Continental Army officer. General Muhlenberg's statue commemorating this incident is one of the two contributions by Pennsylvania to Statuary Hall in the National Capitol at Washington, the other being Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat.

Capt. Sterling Galt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Galt, of Emmitsburg, and nephew of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, was gassed during heavy fighting against the Germans in France, according to a cablegram received by his father, and is now convalescing in a base hospital in France.

Captain Galt, who is a graduate of Princeton University, is a member of the 78th Division.

Dennis C. Robinson, of New Oxford, appears on to-day's casualty list among those who died of disease. Note was recently made of this death after official word was received at the young soldier's home.

WOMEN TO PUSH FOOD CAMPAIGN

Twenty Representatives of Administration in Various Parts of the County.

THEIR DUTIES OUTLINED

Manner in which they will Help Put through Government's Program is now Outlined.

Adams County is well organized for Food Work. To attain this end Miss Nina G. Storrick, who has charge of the Women's Division for Food Work, and Dr. E. H. Markley, County Food Administrator, have divided the county into twenty districts and a capable person has been appointed to take charge of each district. The work of this organization is to reach every home in the county with the right message for food conservation and home economies.

The persons who have been appointed to take charge of each district will be instructed so as to be able to give information concerning various food topics.

Following are the names of persons who have been appointed to take charge of each district:

Miss Nancy Adams, Gardners: Mrs. Arthur Griest, Flora Dale: Mrs. George Rice, Arendtsville; Miss Emma Schwartz, Cashtown: Mrs. Wilmer Koser, Biglerville: Miss Helen Cunningham, Fairfield: Mrs. George W. Seaks, New Oxford; Mrs. Burton Alleman, Littlestown: Mrs. Harry Pearson, York Springs: Miss Mary Bell, Hunterstown: Mrs. George Baker, Abbottstown; Mrs. Charles E. Miller, McSherrystown; Mrs. W. W. Neely, New Chester: Mrs. St. Clair, East Berlin; Mrs. Harry Menges, Bermudian; Mrs. Robert J. Chronister, Hampton; Mrs. George Heller, York Springs, Route 1: Miss Regina Chrismer, Bonneauville; Mrs. E. G. Lower, Table Rock; Mrs. W. D. E. Scott, Bendersville: Mrs. Bender Cashman, New Oxford.

Dr. E. H. Markley, Adams County Food Administrator, has received the following communication from state headquarters:

"There has occasionally cropped up, here and there about the state, a little tendency on the part of the trade and public to let down on the Food Administrator regulations by reason of peace expectations.

"No fight is ever won without being fought through to its finish and the finish of every fight should be strong. We have not won the war yet, and there may easily be many weary days of hard fighting ahead of us. When peace actually comes, it will be time enough to consider whether and to what extent our efforts to conserve and regulate the food supply may be relaxed, and the President and Congress may be depended upon to take appropriate action in this direction.

"In the meantime, the food responsibilities of America are increasing rather than diminishing. Our army and navy are in the field and growing in numbers daily. Every mile of victorious advance by the Allies redeems from German bondage thousands of starving refugees who are added to those already dependent upon us.

"In either peace or war, these conditions must prevail for a long time, until Europe can make a harvest and our men can be brought home to restore our productive forces to their normal basis.

"There is, therefore, not only present reason for continuing our observance of the Food Laws and Regulations, but for far greater efforts in this direction than ever before, and it is our duty and obligation to see that these regulations are observed strictly to the letter and in spirit until such time as circumstances justify a change in the existing orders and the law itself ceases to be in force.

"Will you please convey these sentiments to the members of your organization, to the trade interests of your district, and to the public in general and, in case of violations, please let your own action continue to be prompt, vigorous and of a nature calculated to insure a continuance of full respect for the law."

THE Arendtsville cider press will be operated Thursday and Friday of this week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, of next week. Anyone wishing to boil apple butter will please engage their time.—advertisement 1

GIRLS AND BOYS TO HELP CAUSE

Adams County School Children Organized to Help in Big New Campaign.

WILL DEVOTE EARNINGS

Public and Parochial Schools will be Aroused to Need of Effort during Coming Days.

In the War Work Drive to be conducted November 11-18, the boys and the girls of America will have an opportunity to do their share in the great work of caring for our fighting men. "Victory Boys" is the name of the boys' "Earn and Give Division". "A million boys behind a million fighters", is its slogan. "Victory Girls" is the name of the girls' division with the slogan, "Every girl pulling for victory".

These young people are to be mobilized for service not solely for the purpose of earning and giving, but the chief arm of the effort is the development of boys and girls in intelligent sacrificial investment of their lives in behalf of the "great cause".

To perfect the organization of the Sixth Pennsylvania District of the drive a conference of the ten counties comprising the district was held at Harrisburg. H. J. Schmidt, the State executive secretary, was present with many helpful suggestions. He stated that the national slogan is a million boys and a million girls who will get out and dig to earn the money which they give to the soldier and sailor welfare work. Adams County was represented at this conference by County Superintendent H. Milton Roth, Assistant Superintendent W. Raymond Shank, and Miss Helen L. Cope.

The Adams County boys and girls are expected to join this strong service army and to have the gratifying privilege of helping the county in a great measure to make up its quota. They will be able to do this not only by earning and giving but by soliciting others to do their best.

The following persons are in charge of the county divisions: chairman of public schools, H. Milton Roth; chairman of parochial schools, Rev. W. F. Boyle; in charge of Victory Boys of public schools, W. Raymond Shank; in charge of Victory Girls of public schools, Miss Helen L. Cope.

Captains; Abbottstown, Samuel A. Johnston; Arendtsville, George M. Rice; Bendersville, Pearle A. Rice; Berwick, G. Howard Danner; Biglerville, Harvey E. Swartz; Butler, Frank R. Mauss; Conewago, J. Francis Yake; Conewago Ind., M. Naomi Hoke; Cumberland, W. A. Taughinbaugh; East Berlin, Daniel Ruff; Fairfield, Charles A. Landis; Franklin, Zella C. Minter; Freedom, Genevieve M. Spangler; Germany, Clayton F. Palmer; Gettysburg, Helen L. Cope; Hamilton, Luther A. Yohe; Hamiltonban, Lou Etta Sharetts; Highland, Robert K. Stultz; Huntington, Danner A. Peters; Latimore, Norman D. Starry; Liberty, J. Walter Kugler; Littlestown, Roy D. Knouse; McSherrystown, E. Belle Neely; Menallen, Roy E. Hull; Mount Joy, A. Nevin Sponseller; Mount Pleasant, Grace R. Senft; New Oxford, Clinton E. Tawney; Oxford, Oliver E. Orner; Reading, Lloyd R. Hartman; Straban, Harry S. Bream; Tyrone, Zeal R. Peters; Union, Ruth C. Bair; Union Ind., Helen G. Johns; York Springs, W. Roy Starry.

Each boy and girl who enrolls will receive an enrollment button and a home window banner. When payment of the pledge is made in full the boy or girl will receive an engraved certificate-receipt.

Mr. Schmidt stated that to provide the home cheer for one American fighter through the welfare organization agencies costs approximately $5 for five weeks. It is planned to procure pledges from most boys and girls for at least that amount.

"A real sacrifice is necessary", said Mr. Schmidt. "No boy should be allowed to secure gifts for any part of his pledge. He may utilize his savings, provided they represent his own earnings."

ITALIANS CROSS AUSTRIAN BORDER

Closing Hours of Fighting before Armistice Becomes Effective.

(By Cable)

Rome, Nov. 4—The Italians have crossed the first American defense line on the other side of the border, passing it on a front of fifty miles. They are now descending into the Veringleo Valley from Tonale Pass. The Italian War Office statement said:

"We advanced between the Astico River and the Tonale Pass, crossing the first formidable Austrian defense line."

London, Nov. 4—French and Americans have established bridgeheads across the Scheldt River at Welden, northeast of Audenarde, Haig announced in a special Belgian communique.

The British have crossed the river at Pottes, eight miles north of Tournai. The Belgians advanced more than nine miles along the Dutch frontier, north of Ghent.

London, Nov. 4—Ghent was captured on Sunday morning according to the "Daily News". The news came in a dispatch from Rotterdam.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 4—American infantry and light artillery resumed their pressure this morning on the retreating Germans. Our heavy artillery and airplanes are bombing the roads in the rear of the retreating enemy, which are filled with all sorts of material.

Yankee naval gunners are bringing up monster cannon on newly built railways and with them are bombarding all German concentrations.

The Germans continue to retreat before the French and Americans west of the Meuse, and are reported to be withdrawing their heavy artillery and material through Metz. Unusual artillery activity is taking place behind the German lines in the Woevre region and east of Verdun.

The Americans have increased their pressure on the 30 mile front from the region of Attigny eastward to the Meuse.

London, Nov. 4—The British opened a new attack this morning south of the Schelde. Haig announced. The attack was launched satisfactorily.

London, Nov. 4—The Tenth Army with which Americans are brigaded on the Italian Front, has taken 16,000 prisoners, the British War Office announced to-day.

Paris, Nov. 4—Allied forces are reported to be in Constantinople and on Princess Island, according to a dispatch from Athens to the "Petit Journal." There is no confirmation of the report but it is agreed that, though it may not be true now, it will be an accomplished fact within a few hours.

AUSTRIA AGREES TO STIFF TERMS

Ten Drastic Conditions to which she Submitted at the Allies' Request.

IS RENDERED POWERLESS

Army and Navy Impotent under Conditions of Armistice Made Public Officially at Washington.

(By Telegraph)

Washington, Nov. 5—Official announcement was made at one o'clock this afternoon of the armistice terms to which Austria has agreed. Actual hostilities ceased and the armistice became effective at 3 p. m. to-day. The terms take from the dual monarchy her last shred of power, requiring the demobilization of her army; the withdrawal of all her troops from the Western Front; the taking of all forces from invaded territory; the occupation by the Allies of highly strategic naval points; and complete supervision of her fleet.

Of special interest are these terms because they forecast what the Allied council at Versailles will ask of Germany in the armistice program soon to be announced at Paris.

The official terms of armistice to which Austria has agreed, as given to the press this afternoon, are as follows:

First: The cessation of all hostilities with any of the Allied countries.

Second: the demobilization of Austria's armies.

Third: the delivery to the Allies of one half of all Austrian artillery and other military equipment.

Fourth: the free use by the Allies of all roads, railroads, and waterways within the borders of Austria-Hungary.

Fifth: the immediate return of all Allied prisoners.

Sixth: complete surrender of a stipulated number of Austrian submarines and other war vessels.

Seventh: the Allied supervision of the balance of the Austrian fleet.

Eighth: the opening of the Adriatic and the Danube to the Allies.

Ninth: the occupation by the Allies of the Danube ports and the great naval base at Pola.

Tenth: the concentration of Austria's air force at designated points.

The conditions are a complete and unconditional surrender.

(By Cable)

Paris, Nov. 4—The Reichstag will be in session to-day and to-morrow to discuss the attitude of that body toward the Hohenzollern dynasty in the light of present and expected developments in the war situation.

THOMAS—JOHNSON

Prominent Couple Married at St. James Parsonage.

At half past eleven o'clock this morning St. James Lutheran parsonage was the scene of a wedding when Rev. J. B. Baker married Alfred A. Thomas, of Seattle, Washington, and Miss Anna C. Johnson, of Chicago, Ill.

The bridegroom is a well known magazine sports-writer and has traveled extensively in this and other countries. He enlisted in the Tank Corps only two weeks ago. His bride is a physician located in the large tuberculosis hospital at Chicago which has accommodations for a thousand patients.

The couple had known each other for the past six years. Miss Thomas will spend a few days here before returning to Chicago to resume her professional duties and the bridegroom will continue his training in the Tank Corps.

DEATH AT CAMP

Another New Recruit is Victim of Influenza.

William G. Murray died at the Camp Colt hospital Sunday morning from influenza. His age was 34 years. The soldier had been in the service but a short time and was ill when he arrived at camp two days before his death. His home is in Newport, Washington.

AUSTRIA QUITS; GERMANY ALONE

Truce Effective at Three O'Clock. Versailles Conference Hears News.

TO GIVE TERMS TUESDAY

Washington Believes they may be Indication of what will Later be Asked of Germany.

Paris, Nov. 4—Official announcement is made here that an armistice has been signed with Austria.

Hostilities will cease at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The conditions of the armistice will be published on Tuesday.

Official announcement of the signing of the Austrian armistice reached the premiers while they were in session in the apartment of Colonel House. President Wilson's personal representative, Sunday afternoon, and gave the greatest satisfaction.

It was arranged that the conditions of the armistice would be made public promptly.

Hungary a Republic

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 4—During a meeting of the executive committee of the Hungarian National Council, at Budapest, Count Karolyi announced that King Charles had freed the government from its oath of fidelity.

The Minister of War announced that an order would be given to all soldiers on the Hungarian front, including officers, to lay down their arms and to enter into negotiations with the enemy. If the enemy wishes to occupy Hungary, the announcement added, a demand should be made that French or English troops be sent by preference.

Count Karolyi, after obtaining a release from his oath of fealty to the Emperor, proclaimed a republic in Hungary, according to a dispatch to the Bund from Vienna, quoting the Viennese newspaper Die Zeit.

All Hungarian traffic toward Germany has been stopped. This means that 50,000 cars loaded with food will not be allowed to reach Germany.

Two German divisions are reported proceeding from Rumania to Hungary.

It was not Austria who abandoned her fleet to the Jugo-Slavs, but the Jugo-Slavs rising in revolt, who took possession of the Austro-Hungarian warships, according to the authoritative statement here. As soon as this was done the Jugo-Slav leaders sent the following wireless message to President Wilson:

"We have seized the whole Austro-Hungarian fleet, except the Viribus Units, recently sunk by the Italians, and are ready to hand over these vessels to the United States government or representatives of the Allied navies. The Viribus Units was torpedoed while still flying the Austrian flag."

Washington, Nov. 4—Armistice terms which the Austrians have accepted are expected here to furnish a clear index to those which the Supreme War Council at Versailles is preparing for Germany. Consequently their publication will carry greater significance than otherwise would attach, since the Austrian surrender had been discounted in advance by the internal disintegration of the Dual Monarchy and the collapse of the Austro-Hungarian forces on the Italian front.

Official announcement that the armistice had been signed reached the State Department yesterday. In making this known officials have no indication of the terms imposed, nor was there any explanation of why cessation of hostilities had been delayed 24 hours or more after the actual signing of the articles of surrender. The generally accepted view, however, seemed to be that it was desired to have virtually all Italian soil free of enemy troops before the Italian armies were committed to end their attacks upon the routed Austrian forces.

Military men here said the terms which the Supreme War Council had prepared would make it impossible for the Austrians to renew hostilities, probably including the disarming of the enemy troops and occupation of strategic points as well. Some of these, namely, Trent and Trieste, already have been occupied by Italian and Allied forces.

Free movement of the Allied forces through Austria to attack Germany from the South should the Supreme War Command decide such a stroke necessary in the future also is expected to be stipulated. Unofficial reports from Vienna said the Germans were preparing for such an attack by feverishly digging trenches on and fortifying the Bavarian frontier.

AUSTRIAN ROUT MADE COMPLETE

Hundred Thousand Prisoners Taken. Much Material is Left Behind.

Rome, Nov. 4—The number of prisoners taken by the Allies on the Italian front has risen to 99,999, General Diaz announced late Sunday. The total number of guns captured has increased to 2,200. "We are fighting on the Tagliamento", says the statement.

The Austrian defenses in the Sella Del Tonale and in Vallarsa regions have been forced, and Col Santo, as well as Peverto, has been captured, the Italian Generalissimo announces.

Italian land and sea forces are landing at Triest, the principal seaport of Austria-Hungary on the Adriatic, according to an official announcement made by the Italian War Office.

The Italians have captured Trent, one of Austria's chief fortified towns in the Tyrol, according to the War Office announcement.

Italian forces have landed at Triest and the Italian tricolor is flying from the castle and from the tower of San Giusto.

Italian cavalry have entered Udine.

The word "strategy" cannot be used in Austria's retreat, which is a pell-mell effort on the part of the various bodies to save themselves. The Austrians are fleeing helter-skelter, fighting in the mountains when obliged to do so. On the plains they are merely putting up rear-guard local fights with machine guns, blowing up bridges as they go along. The long lines of enemy troops on the roads are being pelted with the machine guns of Allied airplanes.

The retreat of the Austrians is being hindered by the condition of the roads. For the same reason the Italian advance in some regions is slow.

The Austrians are leaving their wounded by the roadside or in houses. Two thousand Austrian wounded were deserted in Feltre without attendance or medicine.

CARRY CLOSING FIGHT TO LIMIT

Dr. Royer Says Lancaster Quarantine Stays till Tuesday. Legal Backing.

Harrisburg, Nov. 4—The State Department of Health, upon the advice of the Attorney General, will maintain its attitude in regard to the quarantine on Lancaster and the insistence that Mayor Babcock's proclamation raising the ban in Pittsburgh is illegal and will carry any legal action taken or necessary to the highest courts in the State. It is not the intention to move in Pittsburgh unless there are sales of liquor or violations of the order and as for the quarantine, as far as the State is concerned, it will remain in force on Lancaster until the restrictions are automatically raised Tuesday. All actions of the department are being taken with the knowledge of the legal department.

This position was announced by Dr. B. Franklin Royer, the acting Commissioner of Health, who also stated he had not been served with any papers from the Lancaster courts.

The State will raise the ban on nineteen more counties this week, making fifty-three out of the sixty-seven upon which raising orders have been issued. The additional counties to be freed will be relieved on Thursday and Friday. Allegheny is to be cleared on Saturday. The additional counties include some on northern and southern tiers and Western Pennsylvania with a few exceptions and it is stated that on parts of Allegheny, Westmoreland, Washington, Clarion, Armstrong, Fayette, Luzerne, Lackawanna and a few others it cannot be stated when things will be changed.

Dr. Royer said he had been in touch with Lancaster and that there was not much doing, while reports from Pittsburgh were that liquor and theatre people were not going to invite trouble.

Information reaching the department was that trains are stopping at Lancaster as a result of the Court order, but that the State had not abated its attitude and was prepared to defend the legality of the quarantine. Counsel has been designated at Lancaster to appear in court and the Attorney General's department is acting with the Health Commissioner.

CRATER KILAUEA ACTIVE

Spouts Lava After Earthquakes in Hawaii.

Honolulu, Nov. 4—Spouting lava a hundred feet from new cracks in the old floor Saturday morning, the crater Kilauea entirely buried the old rest house.

The eruption followed severe earthquakes throughout the island of Hawaii Friday night at 11:33 o'clock.

The Kilauea fire pit has been rising for three days, and lava is flowing continuously in several directions.

KAISER TO LEAVE BERLIN IS RUMOR

Shows no Thought of Retiring from Throne, however, Letter Indicates.

SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE

Praises his Office and Declares Old Regime Made Possible Development of Country.

Geneva, Nov. 4—Dozens of trunks bearing the royal Hohenzollern monogram have been arriving in the past week at the luxurious chateau named "Bucpas", on the Lake of Zug. The chateau, which is flying the German flag, is the property of Baron von Kleist, a German.

Zurich, Switzerland, Nov. 4—The German propaganda service cites the Vorwaerts of Berlin as confirming the report that Philipp Schneidemann, the Socialist leader in the Reichstag and member without portfolio in the German cabinet, had addressed to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the imperial chancellor, a memorandum on the necessity of the retirement of Emperor William. The step was taken, it is added, after an agreement had been reached by the leaders of the Reichstag parties.

Amsterdam, Nov. 4—On the occasion of the constitutional amendment coming into force, says an official telegram from Berlin, Emperor William addressed to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the German Imperial Chancellor, a decree endorsing the decisions of the Reichstag and avowing his firm determination to co-operate in their full development. The Emperor's decree reads:

"Your Grand Ducal Highness: I return herewith for immediate publication the bill to amend the Imperial Constitution and the law of March 17, 1879, relative to the representation of the Imperial Chancellor, which has been laid before me for signature.

"On the occasion of this step, which is so momentous for the future history of the German people, I have a desire to give expression to my feelings. Prepared for by a series of government acts a new order comes into force which transfers the fundamental rights of the Kaiser's person to the people.

"Thus comes to a close a period which will stand in honor before the eyes of future generations. Despite all struggles between invested authority and aspiring forces, it has rendered possible to our people that tremendous development which imperishably revealed itself in the wonderful achievements of this war.

"In the terrible storms of the four years of war, however, all forms have been broken up, not to leave their ruins behind, but to make a place for a new vital form.

"After the achievements of these times the German people can claim that no right which may guarantee a free and happy future shall be withheld from them.

"The proposals of the Allied governments, which are now adopted and extended, owe their origin to this conviction. I, however, with my exalted allies, indorse these decisions of parliament in firm determination, as far as I am concerned, to co-operate in their full development, convinced that I am thereby promoting the weal of the German people.

"The Kaiser's office is one of service to the people. May, then, the new order release all the good powers which our people need in order to support the trials which are hanging over the empire and with a firm step within a bright future from the gloom of the present.

The position of Emperor William continues to be discussed by the entire German press.

"The war cabinet", says the Berlin Tageblatt, "as yet has taken no unanimous, binding action relative to the Emperor, but there is greater unanimity in the desire that he should remain."

FRENCH LINER ARRIVES

Many Passengers Landed under Impression that War was Over.

An Atlantic Port, Nov. 4—A large French liner arrived here during Saturday night with all her lights ablaze. This unusual procedure in wartime was due, according to passengers, to a wireless message picked up at sea, which caused the captain to order paint scraped from the vessel's port holes to permit illumination of the decks.

While the contents of the wireless message were not made known to the passengers, many of them landed Sunday with the impression that peace had been concluded with Germany, and that "freedom of the seas" had been restored.

FOE LINES MELT BEFORE THE YANKS

Pershing's Men Meet only Isolated Opposition. All Objectives Reached.

With the American Forces on the Verdun Front, Nov. 4—Only disorganized resistance was offered by the Germans Sunday to the French and American troops from points east of the River Meuse to that part of the line extending to Rethel.

The Americans carried the apex of their advance to the little lake in Belval woods to the north of Barricourt.

Stenay, an important railway center less than four miles from the American front, has already been so harassed that it has been rendered almost useless to the enemy.

The Germans continue to retreat all along the front. General Pershing's forces continued to make satisfactory progress during the night and Sunday morning, but they met with isolated opposition here and there, indicating that the German retreat had slightly slowed up.

Every Objective Reached

Virtually every American division had not only reached its objectives Sunday morning but was far ahead of them. Prisoners, guns and material were reported to be increasing in number and quantity.

The enemy opposition took the form of intermittent artillery fire and at a few points with the use of gas and infantry. This resistance, however, generally vanished when the Americans exerted themselves.

The general character of the enemy's defense was almost exclusively that of rear-guard actions, instead of the usual bitter direct opposition and generally it was overcome without difficulty.

American aviators late Sunday reported that the Germans to the east of the Meuse appeared to be in full retreat. The aviators' messages said that all roads running northward were packed with troops, artillery and trucks.

The American aviators went as far as Remoiville. They reported that the roads southwest of Remoiville are choked with traffic.

Harassing The Retreat

The retreating German troops and convoys and enemy ammunition dumps and various villages within the Teuton lines were attacked Sunday by American bombing airplanes.

Great damage is reported to have been done to property and consternation caused among the retreating troops.

The American bombing machines made two attacks, the first in the morning and the other in the afternoon, reaching as far as Stenay and Beaumont. Fires are reported in both places.

DRIVING THE GERMANS

British and French Make Further Important Advances.

London, Nov. 4—British troops Saturday night stormed the steel works held by the Germans southeast of Valenciennes and, advancing one and one-half miles to the east, completed the capture of the village of St. Saulve, the War Office has announced. Haig's men took prisoner 5,000 Germans in two days of fighting on this front.

BERLIN REPORTS LOSSES

Berlin, Nov. 4—The communication issued from General Headquarters Sunday says:

"In Flanders we have withdrawn our troops who were on the Lys at the junction of our front with the Scheldt, on Ghent. There was no fighting contact with the enemy here Saturday.

"Near and south of Valenciennes the British continued their violent attacks. They pressed us back to Saultain during the morning and again established themselves in Preseau. Villers-Pol was held against repeated attacks.

"A break into our front by the Americans west of the Meuse caused us to withdraw our front between the Aisne and Champigneulle.

"On the line of Quatre-Champs and Buzancy forefield engagements developed. Saturday we gained some ground near Tailly and beyond Villers-Devant-Dun."

GERMAN REFORMS A BLUFF

Mere Pretension, Says Member of French Commission.

New York, Nov. 4—"The pretended democratic reforms of Germany are only a bluff," Daniel Blumenthal, member of the French High Commission to the United States, and former deputy in the Reichstag from Alsace-Lorraine, declared in a statement here, discussing Germany's peace notes to the United States.

M. Blumenthal declared that even if all the charges reported have been made in the German government, they are not sufficient to assure government by the people.

The German Army and Navy remain under the direct command of the Emperor, he asserted, and the Chancellor and all the state secretaries still are appointed and removed by the Emperor.

Also, he said, while the Emperor is reported to have been deprived of the right to make war, nothing is said as to whom this right is transferred.

WOMEN TO ENTER TRANSPORT WORK

WILL RELEASE MANY MEN

One Way of Handling Greatly Increased Program to Take Supplies to Boys Overseas.

The task of assisting in recruiting men for the Motor Transport Corps of the Army, which is now being organized along such comprehensive lines as to call for a force approximating 200,000 men and for Motor Transportation of the value of $130,000,000 in addition to the value of such transport already in the service, has been assigned to the Highways Transport Committee, Council of National Defense, by General C. B. Drake, Chief of the Motor Transport Corps.

The carrying out of this assignment for one of the great branches of the war machinery means that the whole organization of the Highways Transport Committee, including the regional directors, the committees organized on its behalf by the State Councils of Defense throughout the county, and their local committees, will be given an increased share in the vital task of winning the war.

In order to prevent the disruption which would follow if tens of thousands of skilled men were taken away from the great organization engaged in operating and maintaining the industrial transport service of the country, and at the same time to provide an adequate force, it is necessary to work out for the Motor Transport Corps some plan to secure substitutes for those thus taken away.

One way of meeting this situation is by substituting women therefore for men, which involves recruiting these women and placing them in training for service while the men in the industry are being withdrawn for army purposes.

The problems which would inevitably develop in carrying out this plan of substituting women for men in the handling of industrial vehicles over the highways, would include a determination of how many men in a given locality are employed on types of vehicle which might be adapted to handling by women, and, again, the adaption of the service of such vehicles so as to provide a satisfactory environment for female operatives.

The possible selection and training of women to take the place of men in the handling of various kinds of highways transportation, and simultaneously the selection and training of men whose age makes them unavailable for army service, will be conducted on the basis that these people are volunteers in much the same sense as are those who are entering the Army. In satisfactorily handling domestic transportation problems, which are necessary to the health and comfort of the civilian army in this country as well as ... essential link in the transportation system which supplies our war industries and the army overseas these volunteers will be doing their bit in a big way.

Painful Dental Work.

In the time of Nero there were professional dentists who could replace lost teeth with artificial ones made of sycamore wood, which were fastened to their natural neighbors with gold wire. A gold plate with several teeth attached has been found in an Etruscan tomb. But those dentists knew nothing of the art of excavating and filling cavities. When a tooth became too painful they removed it, not by pulling it but by prying it out in a manner that must have been most distressing to the sufferer.

Indian Superstition.

A student of Indian customs relates that among the Seneca tribes was one remarkable for its beauty. When a maiden died the Indians imprisoned a young bird until it first began to try its powers of song, and then loading it with messages and caresses they loosed its bonds over her grave in the belief that it would not fold its wings nor close its eyes until it had flown to the spirit land and delivered its burden of affection.

IN BASE HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eichholz, Waynesboro, have received word that their son, Corporal Henry Eichholz Jr., a member of Company A, 109th Machine Gun Battalion, with the American Expeditionary Forces, "Somewhere in France," was in one of the base hospitals. It is not known whether he was wounded or is convalescing from illness. He has been on the fighting front on several occasions.

CUMBERLAND CO.

OFF AGAIN; ON AGAIN

The board of health of Mt. Holly Springs which lifted the ban in that town Wednesday of this week held a meeting Thursday evening and decided to put it on again because of increased number of cases of influenza, there being about 15 new ones. There were therefore no church nor Sunday School services, nor will there be any public school sessions until further notice.

CARRIAGE WORKS CLOSES

The firm of Thrush & Stough, of Shippensburg, one of the best known firms in southern Pennsylvania, with branches at Waynesboro and Hagerstown, closed its business Friday.

George W. Thrush, senior member of the firm, retired and Mulford Stough left Friday for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he will engage in the real estate business. Mrs. Stough and daughter have been in New Mexico for a year and a half, going there for her health. Mr. Stough will make the trip in his car and will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sydney M. Boher, who will spend the next two months in that clime.

The firm of Thrush and Stough was established more than a half a century ago.

YORK COUNTY

ENTERS GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Miss Pauline M. Carroll, R. N, York, left Friday for Camp Meade, Md., where she has been assigned to duty by the United States Army Nursing Corps. Miss Carroll is a graduate of St. Vincent's hospital, New York City, class of May, 1918, being the valedictorian of the class.

PHYSICIAN INJURED

FOUND DEAD IN BARN

Early Saturday morning, Paul Meckley, tenant on the A. F. Rife farm, near New Baltimore, was found dead in the barn, having been killed by the discharge of a shotgun.

Mr. Meckley left the house before 7 o'clock and was going to spend the morning hunting. Soon after his departure the report of a gun was heard, and upon investigation his lifeless body was found lying on the barn floor. Whether the fatal shot was premeditated or whether it was accidental, has not been determined.

Young Meckley was the tenant on the farm for several years, and was about 28 years of age. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Carrie Meckley, and three children: Geraldine, Miriam and Beatrice. Also by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Meckley, who reside on the Samuel Witmer farm, not more than a mile from the Rife farm, and the following brothers and sisters: Claude, Charles and John Meckley, at home; Mrs. Charles Warner and Mrs. J. Small.

GUNNING ACCIDENTS

Two accidents of a serious nature, were reported in York county Friday, on the opening of the rabbit season. Charles Wentz, Yocumtown, 15 years old, received a serious wound in his right shoulder. His lungs may be punctured. William Grothe, Bridgeton, was injured in the right eye, a grain of shot from his own gun bounding back and striking him. He will probably lose the sight of the eye.

Young Wentz and a companion were gunning near the C. W. Bamberger farm, when the latter, in discharging his gun at a rabbit, shot Wentz in the right shoulder. Mr. Bamberger, who was in a nearby field, took the youth in his auto truck to his home, near Yocumtown. There Dr. H. C. Herrick was summoned. It is believed that some of the shot penetrated to and punctured the lungs.

William Grothe, of Bridgeton, 35 years old, will probably lose the sight of his right eye, as a result of an accident near his home Friday afternoon. In shooting at a rabbit a grain of shot struck a stone and, bounding back, lodged in the eye ball. He was taken on the evening train to York, where he underwent treatment at the office of Dr. Ira McDowell. He was later taken to the home of a sister. It is stated that there is little likelihood of saving the sight of his eye.

McSHERRYSTOWN

A number of Harrisburg people visited at the home of George Ackerman on Friday.

Hayes Groff, formerly of Camp Meade, is spending a five-day furlough at his home here.

A number of visitors were guests of the students at St. Joseph's Convent, on All Saints Day.

C. E. Miller spent Friday at his farm along the Big Conewago hunting for rabbits. He made an early start and bagged his limit—six, up to 9 a. m.

Mrs. Mary Crane has moved from Hanover to the home of Miss Hannah Reily, here.

Roy Groft has returned to Cape May, N. J., after a short furlough spent at his home here.

A number of large droves of cattle passed through town Friday on the way to nearby farms where they will be fed through the winter. In the spring when they have grown fat they will be sold to the butchers. Each year finds more farmers feeding cattle over the winter which they find most profitable.

BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville—Wesley Potroff, of Sparrows Point, was the recent guest of his sister, Mrs. Ellen Wampler.

W. H. Lady and family spent Sunday with relatives in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. William Slaybaugh visited relatives at East Berlin on Sunday.

U. S. Kleinfelter and family were Sunday guests of relatives at Frederick.

The Misses Rutherford, of Paxtang, and Mrs. Dickey, of Oxford, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Bigham on Saturday.

Mrs. Bowman, of Woodstock, Va., is visiting at the home of Miss Abbie Gardner.

William McDannell, of Harrisburg, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Heiges.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Dugan spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Dugan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Koser.

Miss Mildred Peters, of Flora Dale, was a Sunday guest of the Misses Minter at their home on West York street.

Business Woman.

CASHTOWN

Cashtown—The apples through this section are about finished up. There are a few bulk apples to haul to the canning factories yet.

Some of the farmers are through husking corn while others who had apples to take up much of their time have quite a lot to husk yet. Corn is a good crop.

Quite a lot of cattle will be fed through this section. Many have been bought already. G. M. Bucher has bought 40 head, Deardorff Brothers 40 head and others have bought smaller lots.

H. A. Bucher is spending two weeks at his home in this place doing some repairing and fixing for winter. On Thursday he will return to Philadelphia where he has his headquarters for the Pipe Line Company.

Raymond Carbaugh and mother, of Biglerville, spent Sunday with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carbaugh, in this place.

One day last week Donald Kuhn, a five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kuhn, of this place, had a narrow escape from being killed. As his father was coming in from the field with a load of corn his children went to meet him and the five-year-old son was running along the side of the wagon when he slipped and fell under a back wheel. Mr. Kuhn did not see the boy until the wheel was on his body. Dr. Woomer was called at once but could not find that the boy was hurt badly. The wagon had 35 bushels of corn on it. We are glad to say he is able to be running around again.

The hunters took advantage of the opening of the rabbit season on Friday but report them very scarce through this section. It is supposed they were all drowned when we had the several floods. Quite a number of squirrels have been shot.

We have had our meatless, wheatless and almost breadless days, and it looks as though we are going to have a coalless winter. There are quite a few wood piles or places for wood which look thin for this time of the year. It will cost money to have them filled up for winter at $7.00 per cord. Lots of people are looking up ten-plate stoves as it seems as though they will be in style this winter if we can't get coal.

We have had some very bad cases of flu in and around our town but are glad to say they are all getting along very nicely. There are several cases in our town yet, so far we have had no deaths.

The hunting camps of Cashtown and Marsh Creek met in this place to arrange for the coming season for setting up camp and other business.

FOR GREAT DEMONSTRATION

All Nation to Sing on Thanksgiving Day.

Plans for a national "victory sing" on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, when all Americans will be asked to join in singing patriotic songs at four o'clock, Eastern time, have been completed by the National Council of women. About 7,000,000 American women are interested in the project.

Programs will be sent to state community and war camp song leaders, so that the same songs will be sung throughout the country.

All theatre managers in the United States will also be asked to urge their audiences to sing the national anthem at 4 o'clock.

The demonstration is being arranged under the direction of Mrs. Philip Northmore, of St. Louis, president of the council, assisted by the National Association of Music Teachers and the National Supervisors' Association.

Hemp Tree's Many Products.

The hemp tree is one of the most versatile plants in the world. From it comes, besides rope and wrapping paper, the drug hashish, called by its devotees "the joyous," obtained by boiling the leaves and flowers with fresh butter; a valuable vegetable oil, a cake used by the farmers for their stock, and the finer varieties are used for cloth, coarse laces and braids. A great deal of the seed is exported for canary seed.

Had to Have Their Tobacco.

In the Revolutionary war long pipes were smoked with great delectation by the Continental troops, and when tobacco was difficult to obtain many of the soldiers would go out of their way to get in contact with bands of itinerant Indians, who always had a goodly supply of the weed.

Voters, Read These Words of Colonel Roosevelt!—

"President Wilson says that Republicans are not good enough to serve the Republic in Congress at this time. But they are good enough to die for the Republic in the Army and Navy. They are good enough to pay the taxes and subscribe to the Loan!

"We have sent our sons and our brothers to spill their blood like water overseas under the flag; we have given our strength and our money without stint to serve the country at home, to float the loans, to back up the war activities of every kind; and now we are told that the blood of our sons, and the money saved at the expense of our wives and little children, do not entitle us to any word in saying how the war is to be waged! Or what are the terms on which peace is to be made or what shall be our policies after the war?"

Mr. Republican, and Mr. Independent Voter, what are you going to do at the polls tomorrow?

Do you not think it will be safer to favor with your ballot the Republican Ticket than the Democratic?

Bear in mind that the Republican Party is the Party of Reconstruction; the Party of Unconditional Surrender, and the Party of 100 per cent patriotism.

MERCY MUNITIONS NEEDED IN TRENCHES

Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, Fighting Author, Makes Stirring Appeal for Y. W. C. A.

Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, who wrote "Carry On," says of the war work which the Y. W. C. A. is doing: "You at home cannot fight with your lives, but you can fight with your mercy. The Y. W. C. A. is offering you just this chance. It garrisons the women's support trenches, which lie behind the men's. It asks you to supply them with munitions of mercy that they may be passed on to us. We need such supplies badly. Give generously that we may the sooner defeat the Hun."

What Lieut. Dawson says of the Y. W. C. A. he might have said of all the national organizations which are coming together for the biggest financial campaign that organizations have ever headed. All the $170,500,000 to be raised by the seven great national organizations the week of November 11 will be used to garrison and supply the support trenches behind the lines. They are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board, American Library Association, War Camps Community Service and Salvation Army.

American girls in various uniforms mingle strangely with picturesque Brittany costumes in France. The American Y. W. C. A. has a hostess-house in Brittany where the Signal Corps women live and a hut where the nurses spend their free time. Both these centers are fitted with many of the comforts and conveniences of home.

"At a tea given at the nurses' hut one Saturday afternoon," writes Miss Mabel Warner, of Salina, Kansas, Y. W. C. A. worker there, "there was an odd gathering—one admiral, a bishop, a Presbyterian minister, a Roman Catholic priest, a doctor, an ensign, one civilian and myself."

First Victory Boy's Work.

"Say, I'm wise to you, all right," a Western Union messenger boy whispered to one of the directors of the United War Work Campaign in the New York headquarters. The director's desk had only just been moved in and the work of the big drive had hardly begun.

"I'm onto your stunt," the boy went on as he swung a grimy fist over the desk; "you're goin' to give us fellows that ain't old enough to go to war a chance to earn an' give to back up a fighter an' help win the war. Listen; I'm in on this."

The crumpled $5 bill he dropped on the desk made him the first of "a million boys behind a million fighters" who are to be lined up as Victory Boys during the week of the drive.

There will be a division of Victory Girls, too, and every boy and every girl enrolled will have to earn every dollar he or she gives to the war work fund.

The Sporting Instinct.

The shabby looking man slouched into the silversmith's shop and halted before some fine silver cups.

"They're good specimens," he observed to the shopman.

"Yes, sir," answered that worthy. "They are to be given as prizes for races."

"Ha!" ejaculated the shabby one, as he grabbed the largest and made for the door. "Then suppose we race for this one?"

American Beef to Allies.

Before the war the average annual exports of beef by America to the countries of the allies were less than 1,000,000 pounds. During the last two years they have averaged about 1,500,000,000 pounds.

Business Methods.

"When you broke off the engagement with Ned, did you send him back his diamond ring?"

"Of course not. What do you suppose I accepted him in the first place for?"

No Need To.

"Are you cutting down the number of calories you eat every day?"

"Never have; we don't care for these new-fangled dishes."

WOMEN BREAK UP SEA TRADITIONS

Scarcity of Men on Pacific Coast Gives Them Jobs on Vessels.

Seattle at Present has women mail carriers, women elevator operators, women in the railway yards, in shops and factories, but now comes the woman cook, messwoman and messgirl aboard an ocean steamship.

Capt. Harry W. Crosby, Seattle shipping man, master mariner and vice president of the Northwest Shipping company, is responsible for this innovation, which has been greeted with a great deal of interest on the water front, where the European war is rapidly depleting the man power needed for crews in the Alaska and California trades. The Liberty Fleet must be furnished with crews first, and consequently vessels plying on the regular routes have been short of men.

"Through the United States shipping commissioner I have signed on three women as members of the crew of the steamship H. B. Lovejoy," admitted Captain Crosby, "and they are doing fine.

"I had used women cooks on tugboats with success, so when we were short of men for the Lovejoy I decided to employ women. After a search of the entire water front I discovered that a woman was cooking for the crew of 19 men of the steamship Harvester. I made her an offer and now she is cook of the steamship H. B. Lovejoy, which has a crew of 20 men.

"After obtaining the woman cook I went to the city employment bureau and hired two girls, one for messwoman and one for messgirl, and they are now on board the Lovejoy. The women prepare three meals a day, and a night lunch while the vessel is loading in port. They are now on their second voyage in the Lovejoy and are making good. The men say the food is better cooked and the service is improved since the women took charge of the galley.

"They are paid the union scale with overtime for extra work at night while the vessel is in port loading.

Witness Proved He Couldn't Be Trapped Even by the Most Skilful Legal Questioning.

The recent troubles in Ireland have brought into international prominence Sir Francis Hopwood, who was recently made a British peer. During the troubles he was called upon to examine a witness in a case where the bailiff had ejected a tenant, and one of the witnesses testified that the officers had broken into the cabin with a beam that looked like a battering ram.

Sir Francis saw an opening, or thought he did— "Have you ever seen a battering ram?" he asked.

"I have," replied the witness.

"Where?" snapped Sir Francis.

"In London."

"Whereabouts in London?" persisted Sir Francis with a smile of incredulity.

"In South Kensington museum."

Fish Hears With His Whole Body.

In an address before the American Philosophical society, George H. Parker made a critical survey of the sense of hearing in fishes. That fishes could hear was maintained by most naturalists of antiquity, such as Pliny and Aristotle. This was also the opinion of such masters of the art of fishing as Izaak Walton and such students of fish anatomy as John Hunter. In fact it was the general view of the function of ears in fishes until the latter part of the last century, when scientists declared that the purpose of the ear was to keep the fish in equilibrium, a sort of balancing device.

Recent researches, however, indicate that in the case of the catfish, especially, the sense of hearing is present, not only in the ears, but over the general surface of the body.

Pretty Compliment.

Willie had as a neighbor a larger boy named Robert, of whom he was fond. He would watch for Robert's return from school, as he knew he would play with him and amuse him. One day he was asked why he liked Robert so well and he said, "Robert is just like a papa to me."

FEED PRISONERS; GET INFORMATION

Kindness Toward Austrians Proves Worth While.

WERE LITERALLY STARVING

Real Food and Cigarettes Put Captives in Such Gratified Frame of Mind That They Open Their Hearts to Y. M. C. A. Workers and Make Startling Revelations Regarding Conditions in Austrian Army.

By E. A. BATCHELOR.

That "the shortest way to a man's heart is through his stomach" has been proved in Italy. The American Y. M. C. A., by a few acts of kindness toward Austrian prisoners captured when the Italians made their Piave drive, were able to secure information of immense value to the Italian army.

These prisoners were in bad shape, particularly in regard to food. In fact, they were literally starving. They said that they had been living chiefly on black bread and gave the Red Triangle workers samples of this food to prove how inadequate it is for the sole ration of fighting men. The bread was hard, heavy and thoroughly unappetizing.

Some real food and cigarettes put the captives in such a grateful frame of mind that they opened their hearts to the Y. M. C. A. workers and, with perfect candor, made startling revelations regarding conditions in the Austrian army.

With one accord they said that they are heartily sick of the war and tired of being starved. Mutinies of serious proportions are prevented only by the fact that many German officers have been placed with Austrian regiments.

These men, schooled in Prussian discipline, do not hesitate to shoot any man that is slow about obeying the order to advance, so the soldiers face the alternative of fighting the Italians or being murdered by their commanders.

Opens Prisoners' Eyes.

It was a revelation to those prisoners to see American soldiers and Y. M. C. A. workers. They had been told U-boats would prevent the United States getting any considerable number of men overseas. The fact that already hundreds of thousands of Yankees are fighting in Europe opened their eyes.

The prisoners are desperately anxious for peace and rapidly getting to think that even a defeat would be preferable to existing conditions.

Apparently the hatred of Germany is growing more intense every day and it is only a question of time before Austria will seize an opportunity to desert her ally.

The treatment accorded prisoners by the "Y" was an eye-opener to the Austrians. They have been told the Yankees either killed their prisoners or abused them so death would be preferred. They hardly could believe a man in an American uniform would hand out food and tobacco.

Work among the Austrian prisoners is just one small part of the American Y. M. C. A. activities in Italy. Splendid results have been obtained among the Italian soldiers, whose physical welfare and comfort are being enhanced constantly. Not long ago refreshments were served to 6,000 troops in seven hours at one of the kitchens. The men arrived tired and dusty with their heads down and left for the front singing and laughing.

In Genoa, Florence, Rome and Venice the Red Triangle has been displayed and fine work is being done for men on leave and among the wounded. At Genoa the association comes into intimate contact with American sailors forming the gun crews of merchant ships. These sailors find the home atmosphere of the hut very pleasant after their long and monotonous voyages and are as happy as schoolboys when they see the well-known sign.

Army Appreciative.

The Italian army is so appreciative of the work of the association that it has given it carte blanche and is according every facility for carrying out the program. Labor and material are furnished whenever possible, and travel on all the railroads is to be had without much of the red tape that usually surrounds journeys in wartime.

The physical feature of the work is making a particular hit among the soldiers. They take to American sports in great style and are deriving benefit from the mass games that have been so successfully used among all the allied fighters.

Wounded men find that properly directed sports help them greatly in their progress toward health and strength, and this work has been introduced in several of the convalescent hospitals.

NEED LABOR IN SOUTH

Shortage in Cotton Belt Is Serious Proposition.

The question of securing cotton pickers is proving a great annoyance to Southern cotton planters. Reports from all parts of Alabama show that cotton pickers are short everywhere. Plantation owners have put in a large acreage of cotton this year and the bolls are already opening so fast the farmers cannot get the crop picked. Fear is expressed that a large amount of cotton will be lost if more pickers are not secured.

Daily Thought.

Be true to your word, your work and your friends.—John Boyle O'Reilly.

Foreign Aviators.

Sergt. Edgar Bouligny, of New Orleans, is quoted as saying in a Paris interview: "The Bulgarians are good flyers as a rule and the Turks are fair. One Bulgarian ace is credited with 12 victories. Albania, where I flew lately, is a very dangerous country for aviators because of the rugged hills over which low clouds often hang. It is the most striking wilderness I have ever seen, being picturesque with wooded mountains and numerous precipices. If the motor goes wrong a pilot's chances of getting down unhurt are very slim. Landing places are exceedingly rare. The enemy placed machine gun batteries on many of the mountain peaks and when we sailed over them at a low altitude we often got bullet holes in the machines."

Funds for Colleges.

There are more than 400 universities and colleges in the United States with permanent endowments or productive funds ranging from a few thousand to several million dollars. Some of them are celebrated while many others are not so widely known, are nevertheless on a firm financial foundation. The five with largest productive funds are: Columbia university, $33,457,000; Harvard university, $28,448,701; Leland Stanford, $24,600,000; Yale, $18,431,444, and Cornell university, $14,679,000. There are more than thirty others with productive funds exceeding $1,000,000.

Wasted Energy.

Eleanor, aged five, was outing with her parents in the rural districts one cool summer evening. On approaching a farm that boasted of a windmill, she said: "Oh, mamma, the farmer's got his fan going on a cold night."—Chicago Examiner.

Explanation of Snow Line.

The snow-line is the estimated altitude, in all countries, where snow would be formed. Even at the equator, at an altitude of from 11,000 to 12,000 feet above the level of the sea, snow is found upon the mountain tops, and lies there perpetually. Proceeding north or south from the equator, the snow line, of course, lessens in altitude.

Soul That Is Truly Great.

Emerson, that greatest of modern philosophers, has told us that it is easy when in a crowd to allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions about us and comparatively easy to keep our individuality and sweetness when alone, but that the great soul is he who in the midst of a mass of other individuals can still keep the poise and sweetness of solitude.

Source of Republic's Strength.

Government in a well-constituted republic requires no belief from man beyond what his reason authorizes. He sees the rationale of the whole system, its origin and its operations, and, as it is best supported when best understood, the human faculties act with boldness and acquire, under this form of government, a gigantic manliness.—Thomas Paine.

Will You Back Up the President?

President Wilson says to you, "The Congressional elections are at hand." "They occur in the most critical period our Country has ever faced, or is likely to face in our time." "If you have approved of my leadership * * * I earnestly beg that you will express yourself unmistakably to that effect. * * * This is no time either for divided council or for divided leadership." "Unity of command is as necessary now in civil action as it is upon the field of battle * * * If the control of the House and the Senate should be taken away from the party now in power, an opposing majority could assume control of legislation and oblige all action to be taken amidst contest and obstruction. * * * The people of the allied countries with whom we are associated against Germany are quite familiar with the significance of elections." "They would find it very difficult to believe that the voters of the United States had chosen to support their president by electing to the congress a majority controlled by those who are, in fact, not in sympathy with the attitude and action of the administration."

A. R. BRODBECK

President Wilson directly asks you to send men to Congress, who can be absolutely depended upon to stand by him and back him up in these, the most troublesome times that the world has ever known. He says this because he believes by united action the War can be shortened and the lives of thousands of our American boys saved.

It is worth your while to go to the election on Tuesday coming, November 5th, and vote for Mr. Brodbeck, who is now your representative in Congress, who has shown that he can be depended upon to support President Wilson,—who has shown that he knows what to do for the District, and who has the experience that places him in a position to act on matters promtply and in your interest.

Of course, you want the War over. You want to get the "boys" back home, and one of the best ways that you can do this is to let the world understand that all of us are solidly back of the President and that we will not make any peace except the kind that never again in our lifetime will there be another war.

By voting for Mr. Brodbeck, you really vote for yourself, because he has stood absolutely for your interests and will continue to do so.

Tell your friends the importance of going to the election. Tell them why they should vote for Mr. Brodbeck, and tell them further what you know full well, that—"It doesn't pay to swap horses in the middle of the stream."

To Adams County Farmers!

The Present administration has limited you in your price for wheat, regardless of the increased cost of production.

It has allowed the Southern Farmer an unlimited price for his cotton and he is now getting seven times as much for it as before the war.

Do you desire to continue to be the "butt" of this unfairness? Surely not.

Then it is necessary to "swap horses"—change your law-makers—get new Congressmen—Congressmen who will look to your interests.

Your share of the job is to vote for EDWARD S. BROOKS, regardless of whether you are a Democrat or a Republican.

TURKEYS' PART IN FOOD SAVING

Sound Economy Not to Market Fowls Too Early.

PUT ON WEIGHT IN FALL

No Hens Dressing Under Six Pounds Nor Gobblers Under Eight Should Be Killed.

The turkey is still a wild fowl. All of the efforts of the farmer and breeder have failed to domesticate this wanderer into a barnyard dependent that puts on fat at the whim of the owner. A chicken will put feed into fat at almost any age and at any time the crop is kept filled with the right kind of feed.

The young turkey, however, is a long-winged, bug hunter until the winter period of feathers is put on and nature suggests that it is time to store up a reserve for rigorous weather. Turkeys will put on weight rapidly and economically at that season and raisers should take advantage of it.

This, too, is the season when fields provide plenty of feed that would otherwise go to waste and, in the case of weed seeds, would do damage to future crops.

Striking Weight Comparisons.

Now, when we have need for every ounce of food that can be put into form for human consumption, whether ground by mill's or gizzards, it is the sound of economy to let the young turkeys live through the fall bug-and-seed-hunting season.

A young gobbler that weighs ten pounds in October will weigh twelve or thirteen sixty days later if given a little extra feed along toward the end of that period. A hen in the same time will fill out from seven pounds to nine or ten. Such satisfactory gains can be made at no other time in the bird's life. It is the season when nature is preparing for winter. The turkey hasn't learned to depend on the farmer's grain bins.

The United States Food Administration suggests that in order to take advantage of this favorable season for putting on gains that no young turkey hens weighing less than six pounds dressed should be marketed. Young gobblers should be of sufficient size to dress at least eight pounds before being sold. Let the turkeys develop and grow fat.

America must generally feed the world during the war and at the same time prepare to rebuild the world's food supplies when victory brings peace

It is impossible to overemphasize the use of economy.—U. S. Food Administration.

Defense of Automobile.

One of the old country church the mule and buggy has been knocked higher than a kite by the automobile but automobiles don't break loose like the mule did, nor do they gnaw the shade trees in the churchyard.—Commerce News.

TELLS TO THE WORLD HOW TONALL HELPED HIM

MAKES A PERSONAL STATEMENT

"My system was suffering from a general break-down, due to impoverished blood," says Frank Brenner, well-known iron worker for thirty-two years, living at 125 North Shippen street, Lancaster, Pa.

"I broke out with eczema. I could not stop it. It set me nearly crazy. I would scratch myself so badly at night to all I was raw.

"I heard so much about Tonall that I went to Locher's Drug Store, and began taking Tonall. Now all my blood rushes are gone. I am free of all feeling of itchiness and my whole system is built up.

"I certainly do recommend Tonall, as it helped me".

This statement was given September 23, 1918.

TONALL is sold at People's Drug Store and Ed. T. Auker, New Oxford.

$20.00 to $32.50

The real basis of all value, in times of plenty or scarcity, is—is the material good? is the workmanship right? is the style unexceptional? is it what you wish?
But, when, as today with good fabrics scarce and all materials high, you have a chance to buy on the basis of previous season's costs then you get value---plus

and that is what a large proportion of our stock offers.
It's a question of buying power and business foresight—early exercised to a wonderful extent by makers who for years have helped us make ours the leading coat and suit store in Gettysburg and for miles around.

We know you appreciate such extra values and we have been keen in securing them.

So we repeat: see what we offer around $20 to $32.50—you'll save enough on them to buy many Thrift Stamps or more War Savings (Certificate) Stamps.

FATAL ENVELOPE

By MARGARET D. JOYCE.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was Saturday afternoon, and Martha Graham was on her way home after a very busy morning in the office of a large leather concern. As she neared the new tunnel she pouted, "I don't like this new way of going home." But she later changed her mind.

After depositing her fare in the slot she started down the stairs. Half way down she spied an envelope which was being trampled on by the crowd. As she stooped to pick it up, the onrushing crowd would have thrown her down if a young sailor had not caught her in the nick of time. She half stammered, "Thank you." Tipping his hat he soon disappeared into the waiting train.

A second later Martha remembered where she was, and hurried into the train just before the door closed.

As usual the train was crowded. Martha was about to reach for a strap, when she felt a light tap on her shoulder. Turning, she saw the same young man who had previously befriended her. He offered her his seat, which was gladly accepted.

After a short ride she reached her destination, a little furnished room which she called "home." It was not until now that she opened the envelope which had caused so much confusion. She extracted a ticket which would admit one to the baseball game that afternoon.

Now Martha had never attended a ball game, so she then and there decided to go, as everyone talked a great deal about this beloved pastime.

She hurriedly ate a meager meal, which was satisfying to her, as the thoughts of attending one of the world series games gave her but little appetite. As she thought of the happenings of that morning she decided that it would have been uneventful without the helpful sailor. Indeed, she thought of him more than once.

After a great deal of wasted time she left the house and proceeded to the park where the game was to be played.

As she handed the ticket to the man she blushed guiltily at the thought of cheating some one from a good game. She passed through a great deal of rigmarole, and finally was seated in the front row of the bleachers.

Five minutes or more elapsed, and Martha, nervously glancing around, saw her friend the sailor, who in reality was John Lynn, coming to a vacant seat beside her. He very quickly recognized her, and by the time the game started they were chatting merrily.

The game proceeded, and Martha found herself cheering as lustily as any of the other fans. She decided which side she wanted to win and put all her strength in yelling for them. Finally the game ended, the score in favor of Martha's choice.

John received Martha's permission to escort her home. By the time they reached there they were like old friends.

As the weeks passed the sailor and the once lonesome girl's friendship ripened into love. But Fate destined to change this state of bliss. It came shortly. John came to see Martha, and he had sad news for her. His ship was to sail for service in foreign waters for the duration of the war.

Martha bravely bore the news until he left the house. Then she cried until her eyes were red and swollen.

The next two weeks were occupied by shopping and getting ready for the departure.

The night before he went John put a solitaire on Martha's finger, and as "Dan Cupid" sounded the call to arms, ever-ready John and Martha responded.

Women in Britain Cut Logs.

A quarter of a million women in England are now working more or less regularly on the land, says the London Observer. The great majority are village women who go out from their cottages and work for the farmers. Seven thousand are in the new land army, which employs women who are recruited for a certain term and sends them wherever they are required.

The women in the land army enlist either for 12 or six months. In case of 12 months they receive two complete outfits free, consisting of a dress, corduroy breeches, strong boots, leggings, overalls and hat. They also get for the year one jersey and one mackintosh. They are given four or six weeks' free instruction at a training center. Their pay on the farm ranges from $2 to $5 a week.

For a girl who joins the army for six months there is no training. She goes straight away to the land and begins on the work requiring less skill. Services of women enrolled in the land army are available for timber cutting and hay baling.

Why Not, Bully?

Have we no English word of acclamation that we must cry "Bravo!" regardless of gender or number? The headline of a newspaper column in honor of a feminine nation this week —Bravo, Italy"—looked more than usually barbarous. Italia has indeed been brave, and one would like to tell her so without outraging her grammar. But let the English admirer note that the Italian adjective is not the equivalent of our "brave." It stands for good quality in anyone—painter, diplomat, grocer, cook.—London Chronicle.

New Blood Needed

After the grippe, influenza or other serious illness, the body needs help to regain the health and strength sacrificed by the disease. The blood first of all must be purified and revitalized. For this purpose physicians know of no more efficient body builders than Iron, Nux Vomica, Gentian, Capsicum and Zinc Phosphide in some form.

In many preparations, however, the Iron causes constipation, but in Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets, which contains all of these tonics, this is overcome by the addition of Aloin.

The system, therefore gets all the benefits of the Iron and other body builders without any unpleasant after effects. Health and strength quickly returns and pure, healthy blood is soon circulating through the body.

Each dose means more vim, vitality, and strength. Weigh yourself before taking and watch the result.

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets are sold by nearly all druggists at sixty cents a box. Special strength ninety cents.
